What are the reasons which justify the existence of the Portal?

In the case of the supply of Cultural Heritage products and services, there is a noticeable relative lack of sites world-wide: there are sites which sell antique works of art in various ways, or that show museum collections, or there are 'virtual museums' to visit. The importance of scientific and technological research for the conservation of Cultural Heritage is an absolute priority for every country which wishes to preserve its own Cultural Heritage. The CNR Finalised 'Cultural Heritage' Project is to the present day the only example in Europe of a co-ordinated and wide-ranging site in this sector; a notable number of University researchers, research bodies and central institutes of the Ministry for Cultural Heritage and Cultural Activity, as well as a number of businesses, have been working on this Project for several years. It is worth remembering that Italy is one of the world leaders in this area of research and business. The Portal also aims to be a reference point, in Italy and in Europe, for all those who, in a professional capacity or simply as a citizen, have the
